We have been working hard in practices and have had quite a few meets this week, so everyone is a little tired. The swimmers are continuing to drop time and have been doing well working together as a team. At this meet we had many of the swimmers compete in events that they normally do not swim. It is always good to sometimes step away from an event you swim all the time to maybe help with focus on a new stroke, and help drop time their event they normally swim. Having the four high schools competing on one team, sometimes we worry the athletes will not mesh well together. But, if you ever come to one of our meets, you will find it difficult to determine which of the 4 high schools our swimmers attend. They are very supportive of each other.

Next competition for the team is on Saturday, Jan 18, with the Skutt Invitational. This will give our swimmers some great competition.
